

STATE STAYS ON STAND IS WELL PLEASED

DEFENSE NOT ABLE TO PRESENT ITS CASE BEFORE LATE TODAY ON ACCOUNT OF UNFORESEEN DELAYS.

DEFENSE TRIES TO IMPEACH SHERIFF TILSON'S TESTIMONY RELATIVE TO SUSPECT HELD AT WYETH—BLOOD STAINS, STATE ALLEGES, ON RASCO'S UNDER-COAT WHICH HE WORE ON DAY OF MURDER OF HUBBELL FAMILY.

The inability of the state to get a witness whom it wanted to put on the stand before it rests its case today caused a recess to be taken at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Monday in the Rasco case, court being suspended until 3 o'clock in order to enable the state to get this witness in court. A protracted clash between the attorneys over the introduction of this witness, whom the state alleged is an important one, followed the state's refusal to tell the defense what it expected to prove by this witness. The defense declined to make its statement to the jury until after the state had finished the presentation of all its testimony. This delayed the trial several hours.

The party upon whom the state is waiting and by whom it claims it will be able to produce important and perhaps sensational testimony is Ed Lanning of near Arkoe. A deputy sheriff was sent for him in an auto, and word was received at 3 o'clock this afternoon that they would reach Maryville about 4 o'clock. The state's attorneys expect Mr. Lanning's testimony to strengthen their case very materially.

The Monday trial was almost devoid of sensations, the only one being the alleged discovery on the part of the state that it had discovered on Sunday that there were blood stains on the undercoat worn by Hez Rasco on the day of the Hubbell family murder. Sheriff Tilson said on the witness stand that he had on Sunday, during the recess in the trial, made the discovery, following a clue he received by hearing Rasco's own attorneys point out the fact while examining the coat. This article of wearing apparel was not taken to Kansas City for chemical analysis along with the gun and the overalls, but attorneys for the state said that had they known of the stains on the coat, clearly those of blood, they would have had the stains analyzed along with the gun and the two pairs of overalls.

The jury came in Monday morning evidently refreshed by their day's rest. All had been given a good shave and all looked as though they had spent a day of quietude in the best manner possible.

The defense's statement of the case will probably be made to the jury about 4 o'clock this afternoon, but so far Rasco's attorneys have jealously guarded their secret as to what they intend to introduce as the evidence by which they hope to clear Rasco of the charge of murdering the Hubbell family.

Up to the time of the close of Saturday night's session, Court Reporter Harry Irwin had taken down 375,000 words spoken during the progress of the trial by the counsel, the jurors in being examined, by counsel and witnesses on examination and by the court in conducting the trial. The records in the case will be the most voluminous ever made in Nodaway county. It is estimated that fully one-half million words will have been spoken before the trial closes.

Judge Ellison is busily engaged in writing the instructions to the jury. In a murder case it is necessary to instruct the jury on every phase of the testimony offered. This is the most important legal phase of the trial by all odds, because the jury must use these instructions in formulating its verdict.

Court opened Monday with much the smallest crowd of any time of the trial present.

Rasco was in his seat several minutes before court was called. He told a representative of The Democrat-Forum that he spent Sunday reading and resting up. He seemed to be greatly refreshed by the day's recess in the course of the trial. The jurors each have a certain chair which they take, invariably, on being brought into the jury box.

Sheriff Tilson was recalled by the defense for cross-examination relative to incidents of the trail of the bloodhounds, and particularly the telltale foot prints, and the seven tack head marks in each foot print.

Ellis Cook for the defense asked permission of the court to mark on the map the location of the heel prints seen on the trail.

The effect of this cross-examination was to bring out a suggestion that if the bloodhounds had not been taken off the trail at noon and had continued in the general direction in which they were going when taken off the trail, they would have eventually passed through Guilford and on past the Matt Whiteford place, east of Guilford. The defense, by Attorney Cook, assailed Sheriff Tilson on cross-examination for more than an hour.

Deputy Sheriff Evans followed Sheriff Tilson on the stand to identify Rasco's overcoat—the one Rasco put on in his room at the time of his arrest. Evans also identified Rasco's undercoat, a grayish brown one. Sheriff Tilson was called back to the stand to identify both the overcoat and undercoat.

Prosecuting Attorney Wright said that it was the purpose of the state to show that there are blood stains on both the bodycoat and the overcoat. Sheriff Tilson said that he had on Sunday, February 5, examined the bodycoat with a reading glass and had discovered stains on the bodycoat.

Sheriff Tilson pointed out to the jury stains on the coat. A lively fight took place between the rival counsels over the presentation of the coat to the jury and over Sheriff Tilson pointing out to the jury the stains on the bodycoat, the one he was wearing on the day of the murder. In all about a dozen stains were pointed out to the jury. Sheriff Tilson admitted that he got his first clue as to the stains on the bodycoat by a remark he heard dropped by the counsel for the defense, and told of Rasco's attorneys picking out the stains themselves.

Arch Davis, constable of Washington township was called back to the stand to tell of the topography of the vicinity of Guilford, and particularly the directions of the rural footpaths. This evidence was introduced to show that Davis had seen tracks leading from a strawstack north of Guilford toward the Rasco home and but a half mile south of the Rasco home. Davis compared the tracks leading from the Hubbell home to those seen near the strawstack.

James C. Lett, the man who discovered the fire, was on the stand a half minute to tell of his finding of the pool of blood and of the kind of shoes he was wearing on the night of his ghastly find.

John R. Hubbell was called back to the stand to tell of the Platte river bridges and fords between the Guilford bridge and the Rasco home.

Judge Ellison ruled out any questioning of John R. Hubbell as to the domestic relations of Oda Hubbell and his wife, the defense having not raised the point as an issue.

In order to fix the hour of sundown on the day of the tragedy an almanac showing the hour of sunset on November 20, 1910, was introduced by the state during the forenoon session. This almanac showed the hour of sunset on the New Orleans meridian to be 4:44 o'clock p. m. on the evening of November 20, 1910. This data is important in view of the fact that Marsh Reynolds' testimony is hinged largely on the hour which he says he saw Rasco trying to climb through the fence on the top of the Wilson hill on the afternoon of the tragedy and within less than a half mile from the Hubbell home.

The defense had Reynolds recalled for cross-examination on Monday, Reynolds being summoned from his home, west of Barnard, for the defense.

At the opening session Monday afternoon the jury was called in to be shown the various articles of clothing worn by Rasco on the day of the alleged crime, and was at once taken out.

In the absence of Marsh Reynolds, who was summoned to reappear for cross-examination a conference of attorneys was held relative to the introduction of additional testimony desired by the state, the court being desirous of having the defense go ahead and present its case to the jury during the lull in proceedings while waiting on a witness. The state declined to say what it sought to prove by the witness who was then on his way to court, and the defense refused to make its statement to the jury in advance of the complete conclusion of the state's case.

Marsh Reynolds returned to the stand at 1:20 o'clock Monday afternoon. Judge J. H. Saylor began to question Reynolds, asking the witness if he knew J. L. Gillette of Barnard. Reynolds said that he knew Gillette.

Judge Saylor asked Reynolds if he had not told Gillette following the murder that he (Reynolds) was not sure that the man climbing over the fence was Hez Rasco. Reynolds had no recollection of having any conversation with Gillette at the time the defense alleged.

Dr. J. H. Todd, coroner, was again recalled to the stand to tell if he had been told, while attending the post-mortem at Barnard that a man was being held at Wyeth in connection with the murder. Judge Saylor said that the defense's aim was to impeach Sheriff Tilson, who said that he had not been informed that a man was being held on suspicion at Wyeth.

The defense alleged that Sheriff Tilson had telephoned to Wyeth from Barnard to release the Wyeth suspect as he already had the murderer.

Judge Ellison sustained the objection of the state to the introduction of the testimony sought by the defense, but rescinded the ruling until the matter should be brought up in a different manner.

Court then took a recess until 3 o'clock, waiting for the missing witness.

PRESIDENT TAYLOR HOPES FOR GOOD APPROPRIATIONS.

TO GET THE STATION

Indications Are Maryville is Successful in Her Effort for Agricultural Experiment Station.

Confident that the Northwest State Normal will be well cared for by the present general assembly, President Henry Kirby Taylor has returned from Jefferson City, where he went last week to present the institution's claims to the appropriation committee.

The report of the junketing committee recommends that the institution be given the sum of $133,000 for the biennial period beginning January 1, 1911. The board of regents hope to have this amount increased to $160,000.

For salaries, supplies, current equipment and present equipment the junketing committee recommended $70,000, and this amount President Taylor hopes to see increased to $80,000.

The junketing committee recommended that for campus improvement $2,500 be set aside. President Taylor hopes for $3,000. For the library $2,500 was recommended; President Taylor hopes to be able to get $3,000. For walks and grounds the junketing committee recommended $3,000, and the regents and President Taylor hope to get $5,000.

For installing an additional boiler in the power house, installing the lighting plant machinery, lighting fixtures in the academic building, along with sundry electric lighting requirements the junketing committee asked for $25,000 for the Northwest State Normal, while the board of regents and President Taylor hope to get $35,000.

The agricultural experiment station will be launched with an equipment costing $6,000, according to present calculations, although Stanberry is trying might and main to get one of the four primary agricultural schools for which the state is planning to set aside a sum of money that will establish four schools in as many different sections for the state to supplement the work of the state agricultural college at Columbia.

Arts and Crafts Meeting.
The meeting held at the public library Friday evening for the purpose of forming an organization for the benefit of all who are interested in any art, handicraft, was successful far beyond the most sanguine expectations of those who started the movement. About twenty-five were present, and the meeting was presided over by Mr. F. R. Marcel, who was unanimously chosen chairman. The aims of such an organization were discussed and a committee appointed, composed of Miss Donna Sisson, Miss Anna Dooley and Mrs. Charles Jackson, to draft a constitution and by-laws to be adopted at a meeting to be held the coming Friday night at the library. It is thought that an organization of at least fifty members will be effected, made up of workers in our city who will have regular times for meeting and conference to talk with one another in regard to their work and to promote fellowship and the true craft spirit among the workers. Any one interested in the following list of handwork, or any other not mentioned work here given are cordially invited to be present and meet these workers—in oil, water color, pastel and china painting, pen and ink and charcoal sketches, cartooning, pyrography, wood carving, cabinet making, metal work, leather work, basketry, bead work, art needlework, amateur photography, handwrought jewelry. All of these arts will be shown very creditably in an exhibit that is being planned for soon and their merit will be a surprise to our people. The exhibit will be free and will be given to encourage an interest in such things, especially in our young people.

IN AN INTERVIEW TO REPORTER, RASCO TOLD BRIEFLY OF HIS LIFE.

If he had his life to live over what would Hez Rasco do?

We will let him answer the question for himself, as he told a representative of The Daily Democrat-Forum Monday.

In the first place, he says he would learn a trade or profession, otherwise he would make no change.

Does he like farming, since fate decreed that he should be one?

He does, and since his father desired that he should stay on the farm with him, Hez Rasco, like a dutiful son, remained with his father, giving up any ambitions he had for the more alluring life of a man of the city.

The garrish midnight lights of the city do not appeal to Hez Rasco—in fact, he was never in a city larger than St. Joseph or Kansas City, and then but for a short time.

Hez Rasco's education has not been entirely neglected, he having diligently attended rural school. His au-

NO OTHER PLACE TO MEET

Other Buildings in Jefferson City Not Suitable for Sessions of State Legislature.

Hon. Anderson Craig, member of the legislature, came up from Jefferson City Saturday night and spent Sunday and Monday in Maryville. Mr. Craig expressed himself as greatly pleased with the record being made by the present legislature. He says the members have been getting right down to work and are several weeks ahead of the usual session at this time.

He expressed himself as confident that the Normal would be well taken care of in the matter of appropriations. The appropriation for the completion of the building he thought would be allowed without doubt, and $70,000 would be allowed for teachers, which is $10,000 more than has been available up to this time. The appropriation for general expenses he thought might be curtailed a little, but he was hopeful that he would be able to get all that had been asked for.

Mr. Craig was greatly astonished when told this morning that the capitol building was in ruins, and was considerably worried, fearing that all his bills and committee records may have been burned. He said it was customary for the members and committee chairmen to keep such papers in their desks on the floor of the house, and the loss of them would cause a great deal of confusion and extra work. The legislature will have to begin almost all over again. Mr. Craig thought it would be difficult to secure a meeting place in Jefferson City large enough to hold the membership of the house and senate.

He left over the Burlington this afternoon to resume his work at the capitol. He is working hard and is making an excellent impression among his fellow members.

LABOR PARADE HITS JUDGE

Colorado Workers' March to Show Disapproval of Court.

Denver, Feb. 4.—Ten thousand members of labor organizations of Colorado, including nearly 2,000 women, paraded the streets of Denver in the demonstration against Judge Greeley W. Whitford, whose action in sentencing a number of striking coal miners from Routt county to a year in jail for contempt of court for alleged continued assaults on strikebreakers has resulted in a petition for impeachment being filed in the legislature.

Centennial of Greeley's Birth.

Amherst, N. H., Feb. 4.—The centenary of the birth of Horace Greeley, the widely known editor of half a century ago and founder of the New York Tribune, was celebrated in this, his birthplace. The staid old town of Amherst made much of the occasion and welcomed a host of guests, who participated in memorial exercises and made pilgrimages to the rough, unpainted farm house, still standing in the midst of rocky fields in the eastern part of the town, where Greeley first saw the light and where he passed his first ten years.

MISSOURI CAPITOL BURNS TO GROUND

Legislature Left Homeless in Midst of Session.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CUPALO.

Flames Make Quick Work of Historic Structure—Governor Hadley Directs Fight Against Blaze, but Efforts Are Vain—Many Records Destroyed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 6.—The Missouri capitol building was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The total loss, including the structure and many records and state papers in the offices of the governor, secretary of state and treasurer, is estimated at $1,000,000, with no insurance.

Lightning which struck the cupola of the dome shortly after 7 o'clock spread the flames to the roof of the house of representatives on the north side of the structure, and in less than a half hour it was apparent that the entire building was doomed.

Because of the inadequacy of the water pressure, the fire could not be reached, and no aid could be rendered for some time by the local fire company. Governor Hadley personally directed the fight against the flames, which, because of the age of the building, rapidly gained great headway. The penitentiary fire department was immediately called to the scene and the convicts worked heroically, sealing walls and taking dangerous chances for their lives.

The local military company was called out and formed a cordon around the building, driving spectators from dangerous positions and removing records from the different state departments. The fire soon spread to the east side, where the efforts of the firemen proved unavailing to check it.

House Records Destroyed.

The records of the present house of representatives were destroyed, while those of the senate were saved. In the state treasurer's office more than $20,000 is in the time vault, supposedly fire proof, and may be saved when the debris is cleared away.

The historic capitol was erected in 1838 at a cost of $350,000, and in 1887 remodeled at a cost of $25,000. While it was built of stone, the roof was covered with much inflammable material which fed the flames, which spread rapidly with the falling of the dome into the main part of the structure.

The legislature will determine today whether to continue its session here or elsewhere in the state. Some of the members favor continuing the session here, where smaller buildings have been offered by the business men, while others are for the removal of the legislature. The loss of the house records practically necessitates the work of the present session being done over.

DIAZ TROOPS ENTER JUAREZ

Delay by Insurrectos Lets Federals Get Into City Unopposed.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 6.—Colonel Rabe and his command of 300 federals entered the city of Juarez unmolested by the insurrecto forces and were received with joyful acclaim by the people of the city. The star of the insurrecto leader, Pascual Orozco, appears to be on the wane. His policy of delay has enabled reinforcements to reach Juarez and the probability of taking that city is now considered legitimate. Other reinforcements, in the shape of General Navarro's column, are on route from Chihuahua and will reach Juarez today, and it is expected the federals will be able to hold their city and that knowing this the insurrectos will retire.

The net result of a battle between Orozco and Rabe was two killed and five wounded among the insurrectos. The federal loss cannot be learned, as they carried their wounded with them but it was reported 100 were killed.

From the insurrecto viewpoint the situation stands as follows: Rabe's command reached Juarez after defeat at Baños, in which they are reported to have lost more than 100 men and a substantial part of their equipment. Alamo's rebel force of 600 men engaged in a fight with 100 federals twenty-five miles east of Juarez. Alamo's expected to join Orozco for an assault upon Juarez, which is scheduled for today.

The Red Cross train returned to Juarez bringing twenty women and children picked up near Baños, and one woman who was badly wounded. They reported that they could not reach the battle ground because the federals did not respect the Red Cross flag.

Miss Sullivan Continues to Be Inclined Toward Plenty Hawk.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Madeline Sullivan, the young Lakeview high school debutante, whose determination to marry Plenty Hawk, a Crow Indian, she declares, is as strong as ever, nevertheless appeared on the Sheridan road bridge path, riding in company with a young man. She was mounted on a handsome chestnut mare, presented to her by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kirchberg Sullivan.

"Nothing will ever change my mind about the many virtues of Plenty Hawk," said the girl. "I am enjoying my visit at home, but my mind has not been changed on the original proposition. I still love Plenty Hawk with a consuming devotion."

Miss Sullivan said, with an air of mystery, that she expected to remain in Chicago several weeks, but not longer than a month. She declines to say whether she would return to the Indian reservation in Montana.

CHAMP CLARK SAYS WORLD IS BETTER

Next Speaker of House Declares
He is an Optimist.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 6.—Saying he is an optimist and believes the world is growing better, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, speaker elect of the next national house of representatives, delivered a message of "hope and courage" in an address before the Young Men's Christian association here.

Mr. Clark contended it was better to look upon the bright side of things than upon the dark, and that a "fulfillment is more pleasing music than a misereere." If the world were not growing better, he said, then the school system which America boasts, and which costs so much was an enormous failure and all religion was a failure, and he did not believe either to be true.

Why so many good people believe the world is growing worse was explained by Mr. Clark as a matter of evolution of communication; that nowadays any place on earth is in reach of the telephone or telegraph and a man may do a thousand good things and never get his name in the newspapers, but the first time he does a bad thing "it goes."

Mr. Clark said that when he went to Missouri, thirty-five years ago, the average number of homicides in Pike county was between four and five a year and now they averaged less than one. That, he believed, was measurably true of every other county in the country.

ROYAL BATTLE PREDICTED

Stirring Times Anticipated in English Parliament This Week.

London, Feb. 6.—Ministerialists and oppositionists are ready to tackle the great constitutional question which will be before parliament this week. It will be a battle to the death, so far as the ministerialists are concerned. The abolition of the veto power of the lords is their irreducible minimum and if there is any backdown the peers will have to do it.

With loyalty to George V. running higher than ever before in all parts of the kingdom, now that he has appealed successfully to the courts as "a man, a husband and a father," it is expected that the appearance of their majesties in parliament today will be the signal for an impressive demonstration on the part of the great assembly. Conjecture is rife as to the form the manifestation will take.

POISONER TELLS OF VARIOUS METHODS

Russian Doctor Who Admits
Forty Murders Testifies.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 4.—Dr. Pantchenko, whose specialty, he admits, has been the removal by poisoning of undesirable relatives and enemies of those who would pay his fee, told at the murder trial of how he secured his instruments of death.

Pantchenko in common with Count O'Brien de Lassy, is charged with the murder of De Lassy's brother-in-law, Count Vassili Bouturlin, the heir to several millions, which it is alleged De Lassy coveted for his wife. The doctor has confessed that Bouturlin was the most recent of some forty victims.

Dr. Henrich, a veterinary employed at the Pest laboratory in Kronstadt, testified that the prisoner twice visited the laboratory, where he obtained several tubes of cholera antitoxin.

At this point Pantchenko explained to the court that De Lassy had furnished him with money for the trip to Kronstadt and, he added, that he gave the tubes of poison to the count.

Dr. Zabolotny, the plague expert who recently returned from an inspection of China, testified that the doctor had applied to him for diphtheria toxin. The witness gave him diphtheria culture fluid.

Dr. Zdrzhkovski testified that Pantchenko came to him and asked for diphtheria toxin. The witness gave him several assay tubes and told him the minimal non-fatal dose.

The presiding judge interrupted to inquire what Pantchenko did with this supply of poison. The notorious murderer hesitated. Finally he evaded the question, saying he would reply to it later.

House Committee Against Them as Members of Boards of Education.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 4.—Suffragettes lost a chance to participate in educational affairs in Missouri when the house committee of the assembly reported adversely the bill allowing women to be members of school boards.

The house passed a bill making it a misdemeanor for persons to circulate false reports as to the condition of financial institutions.

A bank guarantee bill on the Ohio home plan was introduced. It provides that 5 per cent of the capital stocks of banks shall be held in the state treasury to meet losses.

BIG REWARD FOR ROBBERS

Bankers of Five States Decide to Organize Force to Hunt Cracksmen.

Kansas City, Feb. 4.—The organization of a detective force to aid the county officers of five states in capturing bank robbers was the plan effected by a bankers' conference at the Hotel Baltimore. The conference was composed of the presidents and secretaries of the state bankers' associations and the state managers of bank burglary insurance companies in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas. A resolution was adopted asking each association and company to increase its reward for each robber caught and convicted to $500.

Fixes Title of Islands.

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 4.—The fight of the day was over Missouri river sand bars, which have grown to the dignity of islands. The property in question is near Chamberlain, and the fight resulted in the passage of the senate bill to give title of all such islands to the counties on the east bank of the stream.

"Knocked Daylights Out of Rheumatism"

New Rheumatism Remedy Is Antidote For Uric Acid.

"By thunder, I got a whole case—a dozen bottles of the 'Fuss' Rheumatism Cure, determined to get cured of my 3-year case of bull-dog inflammatory rheumatism. I didn't need the dozen, you bet you—three bottles knocked the daylight right out of it and cured me completely. The other nine bottles I gave to rheumatic friends, and they are hopping around pretty lively now, same as I am. 'Fuss' is a wonder." This is but one of hundreds of similar reports on this amazing remedy, the only known antidote to uric acid. Furthermore, it is as safe as food, containing no chloral, opium, morphine, cocaine, alcohol, ether, chloroform or other stimulant or narcotic; not a drop. "Fuss" gives immediate relief, and destroys uric acid in the blood which causes rheumatism, gout, lumbago and kidney trouble. Don't hesitate but get "Fuss" and stop the agony right off and get cured. "Fuss" Rheumatism Cure sold at $1.00 a bottle by all leading druggists or by mail—sent prepaid on receipt of $1.00—10 bottles for $9.00, by the Fuss Remedy Co., Detroit, Mich.

REBELS CLOSING IN ON JUAREZ

City Opposite El Paso is Awaiting Attack.

UNCLE SAM MAY INTERVENE.

Talk of Sending United States Troops Across River to Protect American Property—Business Houses Closed and City Almost Deserted.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 4.—Juarez is quiet, but with the knowledge that an attack by the insurgents is sure within the next twelve hours.

It is believed the city will put up but a slight resistance and tonight will be in the hands of Orozco and Blanco.

An unexpected angle was given the situation, however, by the possible action of the United States government in considering the advisability of sending American troops into Juarez to protect American interests and prevent the threatened bombardment.

Juarez is a deserted city. Hundreds of the inhabitants have fled across the international bridge to the protection of United States territory.

The mayor of Juarez ordered all places of business closed. American and other foreign flags were at once put out by the foreign residents. The consuls had not had any notice of an attack, but the mayor declined to say why he issued the closing order.

All races have been called off the Juarez track until conditions change. Consuls in Juarez have not yet been advised that the town is to be bombarded. Revolutionists say their messenger with messages to consuls was captured and that another will come in under a white flag. After the notice is delivered the attack must then wait twelve hours, according to the rules of war, it is said.

SOLDIERS ORDERED SOUTH

Two Troops of Cavalry to Arizona and Four Troops to El Paso.

Omaha, Feb. 4.—Patriotic blood tingled through the veins of the Department of the Missouri when a flash was sent by Commanding General Fred A. Smith ordering cavalry troops from Fort Meade, S. D., to the border lines in Arizona to maintain forced neutral relations between the United States and the Mexican government as a result of the intensified and spreading insurrection at Juarez. The order, which explains all, sent out by the commanding general follows:

"The following was received from the war department: 'Send at once two troops of cavalry, full strength, men and horses, completely equipped for field service, ten days' rations, from Fort Meade to Fort Huachuca, Ariz. Pack transportation will be found there. Direct the commanding officer to report to the commanding general of the Department of Colorado for duty on arrival in the department. 'Also send four troops of cavalry and one pack train complete from Fort Meade to El Paso, Tex. All troops to be full strength, men and horses, completely equipped for field service, ten days' rations. Direct the commanding officer to report to the commanding general of the Department of Texas for duty on arrival in the department.'

"All troops are to take 200 rounds of ammunition per man and the necessary medical attendance. By order of the secretary of war."

CONGRESS AT

Important Measures Pressing in Both Houses.

BORAH HAS CALL ON HIS BILL

Likely to Force Senators to Act on Direct Vote Measure—Action Expected on Lorimer Case—Reciprocity Matter in Lower House.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Congress worked under high tension last week and the prospects for the remainder of the session do not promise many days barren of excitement. The congestion is such that appropriation bills are in some danger, but members of experience recall conditions equally bad which were met without the necessity of extra sessions.

The real difficulty in both branches seems to be that numerous matters of a political or partisan nature are being pressed for consideration before the close of the congress on March 4, and it is realized that many of these must fall through lack of time. The inevitable result is to make members irritable over delays and not infrequently the time honored and much vaunted courtesy between factions in congress has been depressed almost to the point of complete disappearance. Most of the measures of an inflammatory character are pending in the senate, and chief among them are the Lorimer case and the resolution looking to the election of senators by direct vote of the people. The latter, as the result of a persistent fight made by Senator Borah, who reported the resolution from the judiciary committee under circumstances which assured a continuance was advanced last week to the position of unfinished business.

Pushing Direct Vote Bill.

Senator Borah is determined that there shall be a vote on his resolution in time to obtain consideration by the house. He will urge senators who oppose it to make their speeches early this week. After waiting what he believes to be a reasonable time, he says he will insist upon continuous consideration until a vote is had. The indications are that he has sufficient votes to carry out this program.

The situation has changed somewhat in respect to the Lorimer case. It now looks as if there may be a vote during the present session. Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, has promised it, and there are others who favor Senator Lorimer who deny that there is any plan to filibuster against such a vote. As this matter is entirely in the hands of the senate and requires no action by the house, any day before March 4 will be sufficient for the recording of the senate's decision as to whether Senator Lorimer is to continue as a member of the body.

Reciprocity Matter in House.

Legislation to put into force the Canadian reciprocity agreement probably will be advanced during the present week. Many applications were received by the ways and means committee for hearings, but such hearings as are granted probably will be disposed of by Thursday. The McCall bill on the subject may be reported out of the committee on the following day and a rule to permit consideration of the measure without amendment will be brought in with little delay.

Many of those who oppose the reciprocity agreement in the house concede that it will pass, but the situation in the senate is not so favorable. Senate leaders, however, are extremely anxious that there shall be no extra session. Some of them fear that the calling of congress after March 4 would arouse sentiment throughout the country in favor of a general revision of the tariff. These Republican leaders say that the temper of the country at the present time is such that a tariff revision session might menace the principle of protection. Whether this fear will weigh heavily enough to cause the senate to act upon the reciprocity agreement is doubtful.

Proctor Stops Riot of Cornell Students

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The Cornell proctor system proved its efficiency by stopping a riot among the students. After they had hissed down "Three Weeks" at a local theater, the students marched upon the streets singing their college songs. Arrests were prevented by the prompt action of Lieutenant T. H. Liveston, who made a speech to the students, asking them to go quietly up the hill and assured them that matters would be all right. Lieutenant Liveston was formerly connected with the Philadelphia police force and has only recently been installed as university proctor.

Aeroplanes for Scout Duty.

New York, Feb. 6.—Plans are being perfected by General Wood, in command of the United States army; General Allen, chief of the signal corps, and Commodore Ryan of the United States reserves to rapidly mobilize the active members of the aerial reserves on the Mexican border. Six aeroplanes, in command of six of the best known aviators in America, in all probability will be actively engaged as scouts in preserving the neutrality laws of the United States before the end of this week.

CATARRH GOES.

So Does Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Asthma.

You can easily tell by reading the symptoms below whether you have catarrh or not:

Offensive breath, frequent sneezing, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose, huskiness of the voice, tickling in throat, droppings in throat, a cough, pain in chest, loss of strength, variable appetite, spasms of coughing, low spirited at times, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, loss of vital force.

The Orear-Henry Drug Co. has a sensible remedy (money back if it fails) for catarrh, called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) which is a vaporized air, so antiseptic that when it is breathed over the inflamed and germ infested membrane, it kills at germ life, gives relief in two minutes, and cures catarrh.

The price, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, is only $1.00. The inhaler will last a lifetime, so that should you need a second bottle of Hyomei you can get it for 50 cents. Ask the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

EDDY EXECUTOR DISPUTES CLAIM

Trustees of Church File Answer to Bill of Glover.

CHARITY AIM OF SCIENTISTS.

Assertion Made if Residuary Bequest Void, it Would Not Go to Heirs-at-Law of Mrs. Eddy—Money Not for One Church.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 6.—An answer to the bill in equity by which George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., seeks to have the residuary bequest in the will of his mother, the late Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, declared invalid, was filed in the superior court by counsel for the executor of the will, Henry M. Baker of Bow, N. H., and for the trustees, Adam S. Dickey, Archibald McLellan, Josiah E. Fernald, Stephen A. Chase, Allison V. Stewart and John V. Dittmore, all of whom are named as defendants in the original bill.

The answer disputes the claim of the petitioner in the bill in equity that the statutes of New Hampshire and Massachusetts prevent the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, from legally receiving the residuary bequest.

While the statutes in question limit the amount of a bequest to any one church, the defendants aver that the bequest of Mrs. Eddy is intended "for denominational or other uses which are not confined to one church."

The defendants deny that there is no regular system of educational and charitable work connected with the mother church and say that, "on the contrary, the fundamental purpose for which the church was established and exists, namely, the promotion of doctrines of Christian science, is essentially charitable, the objects sought to be furthered by such promotion being the furtherance and spreading of religion, the spiritual education of mankind and the relief and overcoming of sin, suffering, disease and distress."

Even if the residuary bequest were void, says the answer, in effect, it would not go to the heirs at law of Mrs. Eddy as intestate property, but would pass to the church in trust for the execution of her final and paramount purpose and extending the religion of Christian Science as taught by her.

BERESFORD-DREXEL BOUT

Unusual Feature in Connection With Decies-Gould Nuptials.

New York, Feb. 6.—While New York is looking forward to the marriage of Miss Vivien Gould, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, to Lord Decies, as the social event of the season, an unexpected feature has developed that is causing much interest. Among the young men who are to be guests at the marriage are some young athletes, not the least of whom is the Hon. Seton Robert Beresford of London.

In a jocular way, while the pre-nuptial gayeties were in progress, Hon. Mr. Beresford, who was amateur boxing champion of England, gave a challenge to Anthony J. Drexel, who married Miss Marjorie Gould, and Phillip O. Mills for a boxing bout. The challenge was accepted by Mr. Drexel after he had gained permission from his wife. It was thought the question would end there as a joke, but at the Ritz Carlton hotel, where Lord Decies gave a dinner in celebration of his departure from bachelorhood, Hon. Mr. Beresford was asked if the bout would be fought, now that the challenge had been accepted.

"Sure," he said. "I don't know when it will be—maybe tomorrow morning, or later. It's just a bit of exercise and will be a bit of fun for us all. I'll take a walk some morning to the Gould gymnasium and there have our bout. That's all there is to it."

Here are the six pretty maids who are to attend Miss Vivien Gould as bridesmaids tomorrow, when she becomes the wife of Lord Decies at St. Bartholomew's church: Miss Hamilton and Miss Beatrice Clafin, who officiated for Marjorie Gould. The other four are Miss Hannah Randolph of Philadelphia, Miss Louise Cromwell of Washington, Miss Emeline Holmes and Miss Amazon Pierce.

The extensive trousseau of Miss Gould is nearing completion. Fifty women are embroidering designs on the many evening and afternoon gowns of the future Lady Decies.

AMENDS TARIFF BILL

Committee Makes Two Changes in Measure Creating Board.

Washington, Feb. 6.—After so amending the house bill authorizing the creation of a tariff board as to require the confirmation of its members by the senate and to add the cost of transporting articles in estimating the cost of production as a basis for levying tariff duties the senate committee on finance postponed further consideration of the measure until tomorrow.

Evidence of opposition of Democratic senators was so marked as to justify the conclusion by those present that the measure would not get through the senate during the present session.
